REGINA WILL HEAR PREMIER THIS EVENING

FOUR ADDRESSES

Last Saturday, the only day with the exception of Sunday (and Mr. King does not make political speeches on Sunday), which he will spend in his own constituency, the Prime Minister spoke four times. Incidentally he motored a long distance over prairie roads in order to address audiences at widely separated points in the constituency.

The visit of the Prime Minister to Prince Albert was in the nature of a political homecoming. The gathering in the Armories, where he spoke on Saturday evening, was large and enthusiastic. When Mr. King expressed the opinion he would be elected again, an enthusiasm in the crowd aroused some amusement when he shouted: "By about 6,000 majority."

PREFERENTIAL TARIFF

The keynote of the Prime Minister's speech was the importance of the British preference provisions in the budget. These, he said, were a great gesture of friendship which had been accepted gratefully by the people of the British Empire. The Dominion must retain the British market for her wheat. The way to do that was to establish and maintain a strong bond between Canada and Great Britain.

As a result of tariff changes made in the budget, said the Prime Minister, Canada was transferring $200,000,000 of purchasing power from the United States to Great Britain. Public men and newspapers across the line were beginning to feel that perhaps the United States had been somewhat too drastic in her tariff policy toward Canada and Mr. King expressed his opinion that President Hoover might decide on some modifications of the new tariff.

Mr. King said the Progressive Party, supported by Labor, had at one time introduced an amendment in the House of Commons urging a substantial increase in the British preference.

"That's what we have done now," said Mr. King. "And if the Progressives are consistent they should support us."

EMPIRE CONFERENCE

The Premier spoke of the visit of Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas to Canada. "When we get to England," the Prime Minister stated, "we are going to say to Mr. Thomas and others: 'Yes, Mr. Thomas, this is what we have done. Now we have come over to see what you and the British people are going to do.'"

The great question of the British preference and its effect on Canada was larger than any party or sectional interest, said Mr. King. "If this government is defeated, the budget would be defeated," he declared.

He referred to the fact that Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Finance, would be one of the Canadian delegation to the Imperial Conference if the government was returned.

Dunning had been a British immigrant and made his way to the top. His attitude at the conference would be appreciated by the British people. It would help to bind closer bonds between Canada and Great Britain.

100 PER CENT

At St. Julien, where one of Mr. King's open air meetings was held, the audience was composed very largely of Ukrainians and one of the speeches was in the native tongue of the majority.

There the Prime Minister was informed he had received 100 per cent of the vote in that district on two previous occasions, and that he would get the same again on July 28. Mr. King thanked the audience and remarked they could not do any better than 100 per cent.

At his first meeting of the day in Regina, in the forenoon, Premier King voiced strong criticism of certain tactics which he said Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, was employing in the campaign. He said Mr. Bennett was going around making promises to the electorate, but bringing some other public work there. A candidate could be disqualified in an election campaign, asserted the Prime Minister, if he gave prizes at picnics or did anything which savored of an effort to influence the electorate.

"I believe Mr. Bennett's action is of a character to disqualify his whole party," Mr. King said. The people of Canada, however, would deal with the opposition leader when the proper time came.

PREDICTS RESULTS OF POLLING

At Rothesay the Prime Minister gave his audience a forecast of election results based on his observation during the campaign thus far. He had now visited every province of the Dominion. It was an optimistic statement. In Prince Edward Island the government would probably carry all four seats, he said. Nova Scotia, he thought, would probably return nine Liberals. Quebec remained solid and the government would have "all that we have now and perhaps more." There would be additional seats for government supporters in Ontario. "We will hold all we have in Manitoba," said Mr. King. He did not think the Conservatives would gain in Alberta. Whatever gains there were, would be divided between Liberals and U.F.A. "I have not had much of a chance to see Saskatchewan Authorities reported all quiet along the northwestern front in troubled India, but these photos show how actual military instead of police methods were used against a war-like tribe near Reshawar. but I think it will be just as good as last time," the Prime Minister said. He expected six government supporters to be elected in British Columbia. "I think there is no doubt in the world," summed up the Prime Minister, "that the Liberal Party is going to be returned on July 28."

FIVE PERMITS ARE ISSUED

After the two-day holiday at the City Hall, the building permit department had a rush of small business this morning. Five permits for work totaling $5,400, were taken out.

Chief among these was the permit for a $2,500 residence at 584 Marfield Avenue, for J. Speck. The work is to be done by E. A. Higgs.

General alterations to the extent of $1,000 will be done to the residence of L. Morgan, 728 Pemberton Road, by Parfitt Brothers, who also have the contract for alterations to the C.N.R. office, 911 Government Street, amounting to $600.

A new concrete flooring for a warehouse at 1129 Wharf Street, and a new garage and repairs at 2713 Prior Street, were subjects of other permits.

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

I am greatly in favor of two kinds of high schools—an academic school which shapes its entire course toward college preparation, and the one that teaches vocation and trade.

It seems to be inevitable. There won't be any straddling this question much longer. It's been facing us a long time. Now it is here.

True, many of the larger cities have had their specialty high schools for some time, but smaller cities keep on building mostly with one idea in mind—to take care of increasing population and the greater number of children in school.

A typical case of this school question came to my attention in one of the smaller cities recently.

Not a great number of years ago, in this city of 40,000, there was no high school building at all. Upper grade schools and called themselves high-school classes. Then the town dug down in its jeans and built a $1,000,000 high school.

The citizens thought that their children and their grandchildren were fixed for life. The new school was pointed out to all visitors, proudly, along with the courthouse and the new viaduct.

But times goes on and not backward, not alas, does it stand still. In eight years, contractors were called in from points distant to bid on a new high school. The old one was turned over to the eighth graders as a junior high, and a two or three million dollar structure that rose on the rest of the city block so over-shadowed the

LOAT CANDIDATE IN BURRARD

Vancouver, July 14.—"I have decided to run as an Independent Liberal in Burrard," stated Ald. Warner Loat this morning.

"It takes a good deal of money to run a campaign the way it is done here," he added, "and while I am putting into the campaign all the funds I have available, I am calling on my friends to contribute toward the cause. Contributions will be gratefully received and volunteer workers are also invited to co-operate."

WHEN A STUDENT FLYER FLUNKED IN HIS EXAMS

The airplane business may have its ups and downs, but the turnover seems to be good. Here is what happened when Thomas G. Hutton, Washington, D.C., student flyer, made a miscalculation while trying to gain altitude at a suburban airport and snagged his landing gear on a power wire. The plane turned completely over and plunged its propeller through the top of a parked auto, as shown here, but Hutton escaped injury.

BANDIT POLITE WHILE ROBBING

Vancouver, July 14.—"I'm sorry to inconvenience you and all that, said a polite bandit after he had held up O. J. Wilkie, 629 Eighth Street, New Westminster. He obtained $4.

The holdup, according to a police report was carried out at midnight Saturday in front of a house at 228 Bloor Street, where Mr. Wilkie had been visiting.

He told police he saw the bandit walking around the block when he was saying good-night. The man placed a revolver against his side and ordered him to "Stick 'em up."

After the bandit obtained the $4, police state he turned his victim around with the above mentioned words. Then he drove away in Mr. Wilkie's car. The vehicle was found abandoned half an hour later.

P. Bradley, 1703 Spadina Street, reported two men attacked him Saturday at 9:30 p.m. while he was driving his car near the corner of Hastings and Seymour Streets. He said they jumped on the running board and grappled with him, but jumped off when he speeded up his car.

Theft of $356.21 in cash and a cheque for $59.70 from the Terminal City Club was reported to police by J. M. Leith, acting secretary.

NINE KILLED IN BIG RIOTS IN BENGAL

Mymensingh, India, July 14.—Nine Hindus were killed in communal rioting in the Kishorganj district of Bengal Saturday.

Incendiarism and extensive looting continued yesterday, despite police shooting in an effort to stop the marauders. Property losses were reported areas to prevent outbreaks.

Tests Show Man Can't Live on Any Single Kind of Food

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

More and more as we begin to realize the nature of man and the material from which he is built and maintains himself, the question arises whether or not it is possible to prepare some single food which will serve every dietary purpose.

In a recent consideration of the subject, Dr. Lydia J. Roberts points out that the average man, weighing about seventy kilograms or about 150 pounds, must have 3,000 calories a day, or seventy-five grams must be calcium, 132 grams phosphorus, 0.018 gram of iron, and which must contain liberal quantities of vitamins and enough bulk and similar materials to permit the intestines to function properly.

Sugar will not serve the purpose, because it will require four cups of sugar to make the 3,000 calories and all of the necessary factors will be deficient. Sugar, fat and fat generally are essentially energy foods and have little value for body building or health maintenance. Perhaps the best of the fats are butter and cod liver oil, but if one wished to live by butter alone, he would have to have two cups of butter a day, and this would give only four grams of protein and hundreds of grams of fat instead of the set practical course of the mineral salts. Butter is rich in vitamins A, but quite deficient in vitamins B and C.

In order to live by cabbage or spinach alone, one would have to have sixty cups of cabbage, or forty cups of spinach, or thirty cups of cabbage, or twenty cups of spinach, or fifteen cups of cabbage, or ten cups of spinach, or five cups of cabbage, or three cups of spinach, or two cups of cabbage, or one cup of spinach, or half a cup of cabbage, or a quarter of a cup of spinach, or a sixth of a FREE DEBATE AT EMPIRE CONFERENCE

British Premier Says Dominions' Trade Views Cannot Be Forced

British Conservatives Have No Free Trade Invitation From Dominions

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

London, July 14.—At the Imperial Conference next September we are going to do everything that can be done by a British government to come to economic arrangements with the Dominions that will benefit the working classes of this country," declared Premier MacDonald, speaking at a great rally of the Labor Party at the Crystal Palace Saturday evening.

The Premier made it plain the Labor Party has no place in its programme for the Conservatives' Empire free trade ideal. "Why do people talk about Empire free trade?" he asked. "I would like to ask those who believe in Empire free trade whether they have any authority from the dominions to engage in that propaganda. They have had none. There is not a single dominion that has authorized any British politician to put that issue to the people of this country."

EVOLUTION OF DOMINIONS
"There is not a single dominion that is not developing on nationalist lines its own industrial and economic evolution, and there is not a member of the House of Commons and there could be no government, whatever its majority might be, in this country that could force on the dominions an economic policy in which the dominions do not believe," the Prime Minister went on.

"The implication that the Labor Government has no interest in the Dominions and no influence on dominion opinion is false.

"If the dominions are going to come with us in economic co-operation, if the dominions are going to accept the dominion and industrial policy which will be beneficial to us all, the Labor Government has a better chance of bringing about that agreement than a government of any other party in this country," Mr. MacDonald concluded.

NEGROES DRIVEN FROM HOMES IN OKLAHOMA

Wick, Okla., July 14.—Enraged over the death of Mrs. Henry Vaughan, a former Erick citizen, beaten to death by a negro near Shamrock, Texas, a mob of between 200 and 300 men Saturday evening drove approximately twenty-five negro families from their homes here and in the vicinity.

J. I. Crane, night marshal, said the mob began gathering about 11 p.m. Saturday, assembling on the town's main street. About a dozen negroes living in Erick were visited by the party and warned to leave at once.

As those negroes snatched a few possessions and left their homes, scattering in all directions, the mob went to nearby farms where negroes lived and drove them from their homes, warning them not to return.

Crane said there were approximately a dozen negro farmers driven out by the mob. Some of them went to Elk City, he said, carrying a few personal belongings with them. Others went east, west or south.

The mob dispersed after about three hours, he said, when all the negroes were driven out. Yesterday, he said, there was not a negro left in the town.

EGYPT SENDS NEW MINISTER TO LONDON

Cairo, Egypt, July 14.—A royal decree was issued yesterday adjourning parliament for three weeks. In the meantime, Hafez Agha Pasha, Foreign Minister, has been appointed Minister to Great Britain, a post which has been vacant for some time. Observers understood he would resume the recently interrupted negotiations for a treaty between Egypt and Great Britain.

Efforts to negotiate an Anglo-Egyptian treaty failed in London May 3 last, Great Britain declining to grant certain concessions demanded by the Egyptians. The breaking off of the negotiations was received quietly in Cairo. In a statement to the Chamber of Deputies the premier predicted differences between the two countries would be ironed out.

Safety Warnings To U.S. Citizens Living in China

Shanghai, July 14.—United States diplomatic consular officials yesterday said Washington dispatches announcing the State Department had decided to advise Americans to leave regions infested by banditry and civil war did not mean the United States was seeking to undertake a more stringent policy than formerly toward Americans living in remote places in China.

Dispatches received here said the State Department had advised United States citizens in Hupeh, Honan, Hunan and Kiangsi provinces to move to less dangerous regions.

Consular officials said that during recent years, while the Nationalist government was struggling to establish its authority, Washington had continuously considered remote regions in the interior of China as unsafe for United States citizens.

Officials interpret the latest expression of the State Department's attitude merely as a repetition of a policy which has been unceasingly urged in recent years and do not expect a sudden or wholesale evacuation of Americans as a result of this pronouncement.

Horse Causes Soldier's Death
Kingston, Ont., July 14.—Staff Sergeant W. S. Ross of Ottawa, with his unit in Barfield Camp, was killed Saturday at the camp when the horse on which he had been riding, a white horse about 800 yards, his skull being fractured at the base.

The young man, who was about twenty years of age, had been out with the signal company on telephone work. His horse took a sharp turn, throwing him over one side. Instead of being thrown clear, however, his foot caught in the stirrup. The horse immediately ran away and Ross was dragged with it. He had escaped serious injury until just before the horse stopped, when his head struck a rock.

The young man was taken to the camp hospital at once, but died a few minutes later.

Easily-grown Lilies
By JOHN HUTCHISON, F.R.H.S.

Yesterday I had the pleasure of visiting a lily farm in North Saanich and there I saw 6,000 Regal lilies in bloom in one block. It was a wonderful sight and the scent was no less wonderful. As the time for planting lilies to the best advantage, is, in August or September (this applies particularly to the Madonna lily, which is only at rest for a very short time after flowering) this seems to be an opportune season to say something about this great family of garden flowers.

When lilies are planted in their permanent quarters they should never be disturbed. This is the secret of the wonderful lilies in English cottage gardens. These plants have been there years without number and each year they get better. Don't expect your lilies to be at their best for the first few years. Have patience and you will get your reward.

SUITABLE SOIL
Some lilies need specially prepared soil for their successful cultivation, but those that will be named in this

Bodies of Mine Disaster Victims In Germany Buried

Hausdorf, Germany, July 14.—More than fifty persons swooned yesterday as the bodies of ninety-nine victims of the coal mine disaster near Neurude were buried in elaborate ceremonies. The disaster was believed to have cost about 152 lives.

The ceremonies yesterday were attended by more than 30,000 mourners, including representatives of the government and numerous workmen's delegations, who had come by automobile from all parts of Germany.

SUICIDE IN SASKATOON
Saskatoon, Sask., July 14.—Dr. Donald J. Sutherland, forty-four, formerly a dentist in Hamilton, Ont., committed suicide at his boarding house here yesterday. The dentist, who had not been practicing since he came here two years ago, shot himself. No inquest will be held. When occupants returned to the house, where Dr. Sutherland had been left alone, the body was found with a revolver lying nearby. He is survived by a widow, who is in business at Owen Sound, Ont.

article will do well in any deep, well-drained garden soil, such as will grow hardy perennial plants. The bulbs should be planted at a depth of from six to ten inches in clumps of from six to twenty-four, as treated in this way they will yield a bold effect that will add greatly to the beauty of any garden.

The Madonna lily (Lilium candidum) is known to everyone, but all are not successful in its cultivation. It is one of the most beautiful of the white lilies and blooms about the first of July. Its bulbs should be obtained and planted as soon as the flowers are over. The main thing with this lily is to leave it alone when once planted. If it does not do well for the first or three years, it will soon get established, for when it once gets established it will increase in beauty as the years go on.

THE MOST POPULAR LILY
Lilium Regale (the Regal lily) is a newcomer, having been discovered in the Far East some ten or twelve years ago. Its ease of cultivation has taken the world by storm, and it is no doubt the most popular white lily in commerce to-day. Planted in September, good sized bulbs will give plenty of flowers next July. It needs no particular care except good drain-

Plan Your Garden Now

This is no time for planning, of course, but it is the best time of all for garden planning. Whether you are going to make a new garden or remake an old one, you can prepare for the work best by observing plants in bloom. Then, when the autumn comes, and planting can start, you will know what you want to plant and how you want the garden arranged. A visit to our nursery at this season will be profitable, and we are always glad to talk over garden plans and problems.

Business Bankruptcy And Stark Privation Facing Chicago Now

Great Industrial Plants, Stores and Offices Cut Operations; Army of Jobless Grows, While Crime and Relief Work Increase; Every Week Adds to Depression Plight of Great City.

Chicago, July 14.—Any way you approach the present situation in Chicago the situation is the same. Employment, manufacturing, construction, transportation, all tell the same tale; the worst times in a decade or more, and getting worse every week.

If you chat with prominent citizens you get a graphic, if casual, picture of the dark state of affairs. If afterwards, in search of solid incontrovertible fact, you confer with economists and delve into statistics, you extend and confirm the earlier impressions.

To-day, in conversation with an internationally known lawyer, the director of Chicago's largest charitable organization, the chief statistician of Illinois Bureau of Labor, a newspaperman and two Labor executives, Wilfrid Eggleston, investigator for the Toronto Star, states he heard such observations as these:

That thirty per cent. of the office space in the Loop is vacant to-day.

That several radio factories in Chicago have recently gone out of business.

That one of the largest and strongest department stores in America is working its employees four days a week.

That a great switching centre of the Illinois Central Railroad, fifteen miles out of Chicago is virtually closed down, and the community which it supports along with it.

That paint factories, gypsum and cement plants are running at less than half time.

JOBLESS TURN TO CRIME

That seventy-five per cent. of the army of 36,000 men enrolled in the Carpenters' District Council are to-day out of a job. That the painters and electrical workers are about in the same fix, and the structural steel workers are in a similar position.

That the proprietor of a small clothing store in the near Loop district, who used to take in some $300 every Saturday—pay day—has been averaging $3 to $5 recently and is afraid that he is going to lose his business.

That the department of public welfare of the city has in the first five months of the year used up its year's quota, and that provision for mothers' allowances has had to be turned over to private charity.

That the United Charities of Chicago will put on a drive for $200,000 soon which is $200,000 more than last year, and that the director realizes that this year's is sure to be exceeded.

That the increase in crime this past winter and spring is directly traceable to inability of so many to earn an honest living.

Most of these observations were voluntary—hence their diversity. Most of them were based on personal knowledge of the facts.

Charles H. Sand, secretary-treasurer of the Carpenters' District Council, who was the authority for the statement that seventy-five per cent. of the builders in his section were unemployed, told me with great emphasis that he had been in Chicago since 1899, and that this season was the worst he had ever known.

NO HOPE FOR IMPROVEMENT

"Last year was bad, and this one is twice as bad," he said. "Not I don't see hope of an early improvement. Financing of new building is very difficult since the stock crash. People are doubling up in their homes and aren't building new residences."

Mr. Sand declares that conditions are worse than official figures at Washington reflect. When I quoted President Green's forty-eight per cent. out of work in all building trades in May in Chicago, he said: "I know exactly how those figures are compiled, and they do not accurately represent the facts. The figure is considerably higher."

In order to find out how the factory worker was faring, I paid a visit to the Illinois Department of Labor, where Howard H. Myers, chief statistician, supplied me with last minute data, much of which had not yet appeared in any form.

For the sixth consecutive month the number of employment in Chicago's factories has declined, and the figure for May is the lowest for that month on record. Payrolls for the month declined more than employment, suggesting part-time work and lowered wages. The index used to indicate unemployment rose sharply from April. For every hundred jobs available in manufacturing at the Illinois free employment offices, there were 247 applicants.

This ratio, Mr. Myers explained, was of value in indicating relative amounts of unemployment from time to time. The ratio indicated double the unemployment of a year ago, when the index was 120.

For every hundred people employed in Chicago factories in the period 1925-27, which is used as a standard, there are only eighty-nine employed to-day.

300,000 OUT OF WORK

The state of Illinois has suffered the same steady decrease in employment and wages as its chief city. With the exception of a negligible increase of 0.2 per cent. in February, manufacturing employment has decreased steadily each month since last September, and in May was lower than for any preceding May on record.

Mr. Myers estimates the number of people in all lines of business out of work in Chicago to-day at 300,000, which is even more staggering than the estimate given me at the office of the Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday.

In a statement released for newspaper publication, Mr. Myers makes the following observations:

"Employment conditions in the state continue to be unsatisfactory, and there seem to be few signs of improvement in the near future. During the period covered by this report, factory operations again slowed down and unemployment showed an increase. A drastic cut in time schedules, more pronounced than any previous cut this year, and affecting a large number of major industries, was not sufficient to prevent another decrease in employment."

"Outdoor industries which have been expected to take care of much of the accumulated labor surplus this spring and early summer are showing less than a normal seasonally activity. This is especially disappointing in view of the confidence felt earlier that public construction work would to a large extent lessen the effects of the industrial depression period through which we are passing."

"With schools and colleges closing still more will be added to the already great number looking for the means of making a living. The opening of the season for farm labor has done little to relieve the situation as farmers have been slow to hire help under prevailing economic conditions."

VOTERS REJECT GARBAGE BY-LAW

Collection System For Urban Saanich Failed at Polls

The garbage by-law submitted on Saturday at Polling Station to the ratepayers of urban Saanich met overwhelming defeat, 253 votes being in favor, while 328 ballots were cast against the measure.

A three-fifths majority was required to pass the by-law.

Ward Seven was the chief factor in defeat of the proposal to initiate garbage collection service, there being 202 votes against the by-law and only 75 in favor.

Ward Two was favorable to the by-law, but not to the extent of a three-fifths majority, the vote being 178 in favor and 126 against.

Reeve Crouch has announced that the police have been instructed to initiate court proceedings against persons depositing rubbish on vacant lots.

WAS PHYSICAL WRECK BEFORE TAKING SARGON

Troubles Yield to New Sargon After All Else Had Failed

"I don't believe any woman could be in worse condition than I was for two years and still live. I was treated with the greatest care but everyone was forced to admit they did not know what was the matter with me. I was continually wracked with pain and deathly sick much of the time. I didn't care whether I lived or died. My condition became so bad that nothing I put in my stomach would cause me to heave and vomit and my whole body would become bathed in cold perspiration. Finally I became just a nervous and physical wreck and I felt that I could not last much longer.

"One of my neighbors, who was waiting on me, told me how a friend of hers had been helped so much by Sargon and suggested that I try it."

"I knew after I had taken one bottle that regardless of what was the matter with me, I had found what was needed to make me a well woman again. The nervousness and sickness left me and the terrible pains disappeared. I started to eat nourishing food and digest it. I soon regained my strength and was able to be up and around. Now I do all my housework and am even able to go down town by myself."

"Sargon Pills helped me to regain my health by regulating my liver and eliminating the poisons from my system. They did not make me sick or gripe me. In fact, their action was like nature itself."

"I firmly believe I would have been in my grave to-day had it not been for the Sargon treatment and I shall praise it as long as I live."

The above statement was made by Mrs. C. Wolf, 1917 N. 22nd St., Orphea, Neb.

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from all Owl Drug Stores and in New Westminster from the Bessie Drug Co. (Adv.) $12,500,000.

Vanderbilt Will Build New Lodge At Sproat Lake

Summer Retreat Amid Fastnesses of Vancouver Island Has Always Been His Dream, Says Scion of Wealth, Who Formerly Owned Arbutus Island; Completes Twenty-fifth Transcontinental Motor Tour in Car Capable of 116 Miles an Hour.

"It's like coming back home," declared Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., scion of wealth, newspaper publisher, novelist and traveler, following his arrival here Saturday night by road from New York.

Mr. Vanderbilt came back this time with the announcement that he planned to build immediately another summer retreat at Sproat Lake.

"I have already purchased property on the side of the lake near Mrs. Wark's place, and expect to start building as soon as I get there," said the former owner of Arbutus Island.

"It will not be a pretentious place, but it will be just what we want," he added, speaking for himself and his wife.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, the former Mrs. Logan of New York, is a great lover of the out-of-doors, and is looking forward with much pleasure to her sojourn on Vancouver Island.

Since the time he was relieved of his tabloid publishing activities in Los

WILL SPEND SUMMER HERE

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT JR.

Angeles, San Francisco and Miami, Fla., Cornelius Vanderbilt has achieved fame as a novelist, and he is turning out books that sell. He is also engaged in writing advertising copy for one of the most influential magazine publishing houses in the United States, and in this connection he maintains an office in New York. He is one of the busiest men in the writing game to-day, but knows how to keep fit by tearing himself loose from his business affairs to each other.

When this happens the help to the Vanderbilt millions usually thinks of Victoria and Vancouver Island.

"If you want to get away from the world, if an equable climate appeals to you, if you seek solitude amid a glorious setting, then go beyond Victoria and on to Sproat Lake." That is the view taken by Cornelius Vanderbilt, who has seen much of the world.

"What is there about Vancouver Island that particularly appeals to you?" he was asked.

"There is an allure about this island that is indefinable," was the reply. "It always seems to be calling to you. Whenever you think of vacation time, you are impelled to think of this beautiful island. That is the way it strikes me, and I suppose it is so with other people."

FAMILY PARTY

So it was with Mr. Vanderbilt a few weeks ago when he started out from New York on his twenty-fifth transcontinental motor tour with Victoria and Sproat Lake as his objective.

Traveling with him is Mrs. Vanderbilt, her daughter, Joan Logan, and her father, W. R. Weir. Mr. Vanderbilt's father-in-law is seeing Vancouver Island for the first time.

Since he built his lodge on Arbutus Island, in the centre of Sproat Lake, Cornelius Vanderbilt has been coming here more seasons. And he is invariably motored from New York.

LINDBERGH MODEL
In stating that he had just completed his twenty-fifth motor trip across the continent, Mr. Vanderbilt spoke with pride of the latest high-speed speedster, Lindbergh-Packard model which he is driving on this occasion.

The model was built by the Packard corporation to the order of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, hero of solo Atlantic flying, and the famous aviator himself drove the car at a speed of 116 miles an hour, after which Mr. Vanderbilt bought the model without any further argument. He has driven the car himself at ninety-six miles an hour.

"Reno," Mr. Vanderbilt's first novel and, as the title indicates, deals with the problem of divorce, has been accepted by a first-class picture corporation and is now being filmed.

SOCIETY LIFE CRITICIZED
His latest literary effort is "Palm Beach," critical, he says, of America's high society life.

"Park Lane," another Vanderbilt novel, is among the best sellers.

He will shortly publish in book form extracts from interviews with prominent people he has met during his life as a news reporter.

START PUBLISHING AGAIN
Undismayed by the failure of his newspaper publishing ventures in California and Florida, Mr. Vanderbilt has already entered the publishing field, having control of three newspapers in smaller cities in the States, he said.

He plans to expand his publishing activities on a greater scale and when questioned as to when and where, he smilingly replied, "That's a secret."

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt are at the Empress Hotel and propose to leave tomorrow for Sproat Lake.

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

VISITS TO DENTIST NEED NOT TERRIFY CHILD

These complementary letters which fit into my office, one intended to answer the other, are destined to surprise me. Frequent coincidence becomes mere incidence. Nevertheless, I offer these two letters as very pertinent to each other.

"Because I am a dental nurse I am sorry to find that so many mothers fail to teach children not to be afraid," begins Mrs. R. H. A. "Mothers should plan to make a child's introduction to the dentist a painless one. This may be done easily by taking him for examination and cleaning of the teeth and establish the habit of repeating the visit every six months."

LYING MEANS FAILURE
"Lying to the child is the way of failure. If a child has confidence, one can soothe him into a patient, even stoical, acceptance of pain. Another important cause of fearing the dentist is the careless discussion of dental aches and pains in the presence of children. Nine out of ten who rebel fiercely at the visit are in a state of terror because of these conversations heard in the family circle."

"I became interested in your column, Mrs. Eldred, about a year ago. My little fellow will be a year next month and some of my problems have been answered by you. Do you realize that mothers' appreciation is just as sincere whether they ever write or not?"

I do realize that, and, of course, there is neither need nor possibility of all readers writing to me. But letters do help me to put more vim and vigor into this job of parent education, especially such a pleasant one as yours.

ENJOYING DENTIST WORK
Now, here is the complimentary letter:

"I have read your column with interest and often find helpful suggestions. Goodness knows, I need them with my boys ranging in ages from four and one-half to five and one-half years," confides Mrs. V. M. W.

"I want to tell you an experience I had last week with my eldest. I took him to have his teeth cleaned and was perfectly delighted with his behavior. He thought it was a treat to go. I had never told him not to cry, or suggested that there was any cause for fear. Of course, teeth cleaning is not painful, but neither is it pleasant. Now he will go willingly next time, and his younger brother, who heard all about it, will have no fear."

These are good attitudes to assume toward both dentists and doctors, who are often used for "bogy" men with disastrous results. If there is a pain imminent, it is a mistake to lie about it. It is better to say it will probably hurt a little than to say it won't and then have the poor child discover that there is a big pain attached. If one analyzes the sensation of ordinary grinding of teeth as somewhat of a "ticklish" one and tells the child that it makes his teeth tickle, it will give him a far pleasanter viewpoint. Choose a dentist who likes children, and whose manner allays the child's fear of the whole procedure.

The casaba melon has a deeply furrowed, very hard rind. It has a thick meat, not quite so sweet and less watery than the honey melons. Its color is of deep cream to golden and its texture is smooth and firm.

Fernian melons are natives of the west and are rich and flavorful. Their color is vivid, of a rich salmon-pink. While they are deliciously juicy they are not so watery and their texture is firm and smooth. The rind is netted much like the cantaloupe, but the shape of the melon itself is flat at the ends rather than pointed, as most cantaloupes are.

Melons are ideal warm weather fare for their water content makes them cooling and delightful. They are easy to serve that they are a boon to the cook and if used in variety they don't become monotonous.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY

Not so many years ago muskmelons and watermelons were the only melons commonly known and marketed throughout the country, but with modern shipping facilities making it possible to send fruit to the "far corners of the map," the housewife finds she must know her melons when she goes to market.

Most people know the sweet refreshing flavor of the honeydew melon. Its crisp watery texture and its attractive color shading from a clear tender green to almost white make it particularly inviting for hot summer days. They are served at almost any meal of the day—icy cold as a breakfast fruit or light dessert, cut in cubes and chilled in a tart fruit juice as an appetizer, or combined with sections of orange and slices of pineapple they make a perfect summer salad. When shopping for these melons, select those of an evenly colored creamy-white or pale-green rind and a pleasantly fragrant aroma.

The honeydew melon which made its debut a few years ago is very much a popular fruit. It has a considerably sweeter flavor and is of a more melting texture. In shape it is perfectly round. Its rind is an evenly colored pale yellow and is closely netted. The same pleasing fragrance indicates a good melon.

Philadelphia Forges Ahead In American League

Gains Game Lead As Washington Loses To Detroit Tigers

Athletics Find Little Trouble Humbling St. Louis Browns by 12 to 1; New York Yankees and Cleveland Retain Positions by Victories; Brooklyn Loses Tough Game to Pittsburgh, But Hold on to National Lead; Cubs Drop Double-header to Boston.

There have been times this season when the Cincinnati Reds have looked like the makings of a great ball team, but, as their position in the standings of the National League attests, they are far from being one yet. The Reds have developed quite a punch at home, but it is strangely lacking when they take the road. They dropped back into their normal away-from-home pace yesterday, going down almost without protest to a 9 to 5 defeat at the hands of the New York Giants.

This left the Red record with only ten victories on the road and the other twenty-four scored at home. The Cubs moved on to Boston yesterday and lost two games to the Braves, 2 to 1 and 3 to 0. The first Boston victory was due to Harry Stebbins' pitching, the second to the Massachusetts law which makes it necessary to stop Sunday games promptly at 6 o'clock. The Cubs scored four runs in the ninth, but before that inning ended the score reverted to the eighth.

Chicago's double defeat came as something of a boon to the league leading Brooklyn Robins. They lost one of the year's toughest decisions to Pittsburgh, 1 to 0.

ATHLETICS GO AHEAD

The Philadelphia Athletics once again forged to the top of the American League standing by pounding out a 12 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Browns, while Detroit beat out Washington, 5 to 4. These results placed the Athletics a full game in the lead.

The next two places remained in their former status as the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians won easy victories. The Yankees, although out of the lead, did their scoring early and had only to stop a Chicago rally in the opening game, and piling up an 11 to 3 score against Boston before rain halted the game in the seventh inning.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn, N.Y., July 14.—Larry French stopped the forward rush of the Brooklyn Robins yesterday, routing out Jim Elliott 1 to 0 in a pitcher's duel. (Continued on Page 14)

Young Pitchers Bombard "Old Wooden Face"

—Photos by Associated Screen News.

Youngsters from all parts of the city are taking great interest in The Victoria Daily Times pitchers' contest being conducted under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. In the top picture "Old Wooden Face" is shown in all his glory, while in the two lower photos the young hurlers are seen in action. "Old Wooden Face" has paid visits to Central Park, Beacon Hill, Victoria West and Oak Bay and is still standing up under the terrific bombardment. This week he will commence another journey around the circuit.

Kenneth Cook, junior, showed the way to the boys of Oak Bay when "Old Wooden Face" paid his visit to the park on Saturday morning. Kenneth scored three strikes on his first attempt and added one more on his second for a total of seven. Dick Flanagan was next best among the under-fifteen youngsters, while Dick Jenkin proved the class of the seniors.

On Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, "Old Wooden Face" will pay his second visit to Beacon Hill, while on Friday, at the same time, he will journey to Victoria West Park for a return engagement.

STARS DOWN GOBS TWICE

Victoria Wins Both Ends of Saturday's Twin Bill With United States Navy

The Victoria All-stars took both ends of a twin-bill from the U.S. Navy at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday, 17-9 and 11-2. The visitors were not able to cope with the heavy hitting of the locals in the matinee attraction and could do nothing with Holness' offerings in the nightcap. The All-stars displayed plenty of class in the two games and were always able to score runs when they were needed.

In the afternoon game the visitors led for three frames but the locals turned the fourth inning into a parade and before the carnage was over eight runs had crossed the plate and the game was practically in the bag. Victoria scored five more tallies in the sixth for good measure and Roy Haines was able to coast along for the rest of the game. Haines allowed the opposition eleven hits during the afternoon, but nearly all of these were well scattered.

The sailors were a trifle wobbly in the field and the All-stars scored several of their tallies on bores. Auti was nicked for fourteen hits in all. Johan, the first sacker of the visitors, provided the fielding thrill of the contest with an unassisted double play.

The score by innings:
U.S. Navy 0 0 0 0 0 4 1—9
Victoria 1 7 9
Batteries—Auti, Thomas; Slagter, Haines and Mason.
Umpire—Simpson and Myers.

SECOND GAME
The nightcap proved to be a pitching duel between Holness and Smith for seven innings, at which time the locals were leading 5-2, thanks to a four-run rally in the first session. The All-stars pushed over six more markers in the last two innings to make the game safe while the gobs were being mystified by Holness' slants. They bunched four hits for their only two runs in the third inning but were impotent for the remainder of the game.

Score by innings:
Batteries—Holness and Down; Smith and Bligh.
Umpire—Baker and Myers.

OARSMEN ARE BANQUETED

Visiting Crews to N.P.A.A.O. Regatta Are Welcomed By Mayor Anson

The thirty-fourth annual regatta of the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen was brought to a close Saturday evening when visiting oarsmen were guests of the Brentwood Boat Club at a banquet held at Brentwood College.

The visitors were formally welcomed on behalf of the city by Mayor Anson. The Mayor congratulated the Vancouver crews on their victory, and lauded the J.B.A.A. and Brentwood crews for their fine performance.

E. H. Grubbe, president of the Vancouver Rowing Club, replied to the Mayor and thanked him for his encouragement. Headmaster H. P. Hope of Brentwood College, C. Nelson Slaney, newly-elected president of the N.P.A.A.O., Orlo Kendall of Portland and Dan Moore of the J.B.A.A., also spoke briefly.

TWO TITLE BOUTS ARE SCHEDULED

S. Mandell and Bat Battalino Will Risk World Championships This Week

Latter Meets Fernandez in 15-Round Affair To-night; Mandell to Fight Singer

New York, July 14.—Sammy Mandell's defence of his lightweight championship against Al Singer at the Yankee stadium on Thursday night overshadowed any other attraction on the national boxing schedule for this week.

The Rockford Shiek, veteran of nearly 150 matches, has held the 135-pound title since July 3, 1926, when he beat Rocky Kansas in a ten-round bout at Chicago. Despite the fact that he has been fighting since 1920, Mandell is only twenty-six years old. If he has lost any of his marvellous speed in recent years, few, if any of his opponents have discovered it.

Mandell still rates as one of the fastest and perhaps the cleverest, of all the lightweights. He gave a remarkable demonstration of boxing skill here two years ago when he cut Jimmy McLannin to pieces in a fifteen-round battle for the title.

Singer, a youngster hailed in some quarters as a certainty to lift the lightweight crown within the next year or so, will bank largely on the dynamite in his right hand to beat Mandell. He is almost certain to be outspeeded and outboxed.

Supporting the fifteen-round championship go will be a ten-round semifinal marking the American debut of Justo Suarez, sensational Argentine lightweight, against the veteran Joe Glick. Midway Wolszt of Philadelphia, recognized in some states as flyweight champion, will battle Ernie Peters, of Chicago, in an eight-rounder.

ANOTHER TITLE AFFAIR
In another title affair, Bat Battalino of Hartford, Conn., will defend his lightweight championship against ignacio Fernandez, hard hitting Filipino, in a fifteen-round battle at Hurley Stadium, Hartford to-night. Fernandez, who holds a three-round knockout victory over Singer, gave Battalino a close fight of it in a non-titular affair a few months ago.

Kid Chocolate, Cuban negro featherweight, taken on Luigi Quadrini, of Italy in the ten-round feature bout at the Queensboro Stadium Tuesday night.

Other boxing centres have little outstanding to offer this week although Cleveland's Thursday night show will see the return to action of Tom Heeney, the New Zealand heavyweight, against Johnny Risko in a twelve-round bout.

At Detroit to-night, Eddie Shea, of Chicago, will meet Lew Massey, Philadelphia featherweight, in a ten-rounder.

Tilden Scores Double Win In Dutch Tennis

Tilden then teamed with Daniel Frenn, first ranking German player, to win the doubles title, defeating the Dutch Davis cup pair of Hans Timmer and A. Diemer Koel, 6-1, 6-2, 7-5.

The second half of the match will be played at Seattle at a later date and the trophy is at present held by Rainier.

At the start of the race N. Blandy's Gentie and the Mintaka collided, the accident disqualifying the Gentie which came fourth. The wind was uncertain all afternoon and was blowing strong over the course at times, changing rapidly from one direction to another.

R. Blandy's Boykin—40 mins. 50 secs.
W. T. M. Barrett's Mintaka—45 mins. 55 secs.

LEWIS STONE PLAYS ROLE AT CAPITOL

Popular Actor Seen in "Strictly Unconventional" Here This Week

Stage Success Achieves Triumph as Screen Production

The latest stage success to be re-incarnated in the form of a talking picture is W. Somerset Maugham's "Strictly Unconventional," which Metro-Goldwyn will present to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Capitol Theatre under the title, "Strictly Unconventional."

This play is said to have done the same thing for the stage that Cecil B. De Mille's "Old Wives for New" accomplished for the screen, namely, it started the vogue for dramatic presentations of the divorce problem. Maugham approached his topic with a delicious sense of humor and his play reached wide success, both in this country and in England. In the United States presentation the featured roles were played by the late John Drew and Mrs. Leslie Carter.

This comedy deals with Maugham's conception of what would happen if a wife who deserted a husband should meet that husband thirty years later. And also Maugham considers what the effect of this "horrible example" might be on two young and mad fools who contemplate a similar mistake. When it came out it was hailed as a classic of satire, and it has never lost its hold on the theatrical public.

For the screen, David Burton, the former stage director, has provided an excellent cast, including Lewis Stone, Ernest Torrence, Catherine Dale Owen, Alison Skipworth, Tyrrell Davis, Mary Forbes, and a new leading man from England, Paul Cavanagh.

Beacon Hill Scene Of Band Concert By Canadian Scottish

A large crowd heard the band concert of the Canadian Scottish at Beacon Hill yesterday afternoon, which was featured by a number of fine marches. The concert was the fourth of the summer series.

A well-known march, "With Sword and Lance," opened the programme, followed by the very popular Irish march, "The Irish Washerwoman," by Sullivan. A military waltz entitled "For Valor," was next, followed by two Parisian numbers. The overture chosen for the concert was "Hungarian Comedy," by the famous composer Keler-Bela. The second half of the programme commenced with a fantasia of well-known and favorite Italian folk songs. The intermission, "Forget Me Not," and serenade "Serenade d'Amour," was followed by "Custer's Last Stand."

It is a musical description of the battle of Little Big Horn between General Custer and the Indians. A religious number, "Sanctuary of the Heart," by Metelbey, was also by request. A grand selection, "Verdi's Favorite Operas," as arranged by Fred Godfrey, concluded a very entertaining concert.

"Ship From Shanghai," Taken on Pacific Ocean, Opens Run

"The Ship From Shanghai," all-talking screen adaptation of Dale Collins' novel, "Ordeal," opened at the Coliseum Theatre with a cast including Louis Wolheim, Conrad Nagel, Kay Johnson, Carmel Myers, Holmes Herbert, Zeffie Tilbury, Ivan Linow, Pat Moriarty and Tom McGuire. The production was adapted to the screen by John Howard Lawson, author of "Processional," and was directed by Charles Babin.

Except for the opening scenes laid in Shanghai, the picture was filmed in its entirety on the Pacific Ocean on a special "atmosphere" crew, inasmuch as navigation laws prohibit the use of regular crews as actors while on duty. The making of this marine picture entailed a number of interesting experiences. According to Director Babin, the first difficulty was encountered once the ship was on high seas when it was found that the noise of the waves hitting against the sides of the vessel interfered with recording. This problem was solved by spreading approximately 100 barrels of oil about the ship.

Laurel and Hardy in "The Bacon Grabbers," is also showing.

"Why Leave Home" Riotous Comedy At the Playhouse

Walter Catlett, Sue Carol and Nick Stuart, Head Strong Cast

Peasants will have a terrible time at the Playhouse Theatre this week. "Why Leave Home?" the Fox Movietone laugh riot which is playing here these days is funny enough to make a cast of iron donkey roar, and those with a gloomy outlook on life would do well to stay away from this infectious musical farce, or come prepared to laugh.

Walter Catlett, Sue Carol and Nick Stuart head the cast. David Rollins, Richard Keene, Dixie Lee, Jean Barry and other stage and screen comedians in the other leading roles, and several snappy songs are featured.

The tunes were written by the composers of many big musical successes, including the "Fox Movietone Polka of 1929," music, Conrad, Mitchell and Gottler, and are already becoming highly popular.

Raymond Cannon directed this all singing, dancing feature and Catlett is responsible for the sparkling dialogue of this screen adaptation of one of the stage's greatest hits, "Cradle Snatchers."

Portraying the masculine role opposite Miss Borden in "Hello Sister" is handsome Lloyd Hughes, whose charming voice has won him a host of feminine admirers from coast to coast. Heading the large contingent of well-known screen players supporting Miss Borden and Mr. Hughes will be found such well-known names as George Fawcett, Bodil Rosing, Howard Hickman and others of equal cinema fame.

WOMAN HURT WHEN AUTOS HIT HEAD-ON

Four Cars Involved in Two Crashes in Saanich; Occupants Narrowly Escape

Narrow escapes from serious injury were experienced by occupants of automobiles involved in two head-on collisions in Saanich Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Mabel Fye, 740 King's Road, was taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital with severe cuts and bruises about the face following a crash on North Quadra Street, near Lake Hill School. Cars driven by David Fye and Ronald Watkins, 207 Beach Drive, collided head-on and were smashed beyond repair, according to the Saanich police report. Police were informed the Watkins car, going south, pulled out to pass a stage and met the northbound car driven by Fye, the machines coming together with considerable force. Mrs. Fye was the only one who sustained serious injury.

The other collision occurred on the road leading to Eutchart's Gardens, a car driven by A. E. Smith, 2319 Fernwood Road, coming in contact with one driven by Ed. F. Stangenberger, San Francisco, badly damaging both vehicles. Mr. Smith's eleven-year-old daughter was the only passenger who received injury, first aid treatment being given by Saanich police for two cuts above the knee.

CITY GYROS ENTERTAIN DELEGATES

Representatives to Tacoma Convention, Here Saturday, Feted at Soke

Delegates to the International Convention of Gyro Clubs in Tacoma to-day, were entertained by the Victoria clubmen during their flying visit to this city yesterday, when the local body took them for a drive to the Belvedere Hotel for luncheon. Under the chairmanship of J. Clay, a committee met the traveling delegates at the 7 o'clock boat and after taking them to the Empress Hotel, sent them around the city in Gyro cars.

Just before lunch they were marshaled at the hotel and driven out to Soke where they gathered for a pre-convention meeting.

HEADS SPEAK

During the luncheon, Gordon Stovel, of Winnipeg, international president, addressed the gathering and thanked the Victoria body for its courtesy in caring for the visitors.

Alex Davis, of Tacoma, district governor, added his thanks to those of the international president in a few well chosen remarks.

Although unable to attend the meeting personally, Mayor Herbert Anscomb sent the visitors his welcome and wished them every success in the coming convention.

Frank Burton, president of the local club, officiated as chairman during the meeting. Later they were driven back over the picturesque road in time to catch the 8:45 o'clock boat for Seattle, from which city they proceeded to Tacoma for the convention.

IDLE SMOKESTACKS RUSTING NOW IN RUHR OF AMERICA

Cleveland's Hopes Dashed as Jobless Total Hovers Around
60,000; Many on Part Time

Cleveland, July 14.—The "Ruhr of America," of which Cleveland forms the northern gateway, is suffering to-day from the same industrial paralysis which has struck so severely at Detroit, with its 100,000 unemployed at Chicago, with 300,000 at the cities of Toledo, Pontiac, Flint, where factories are operating at from twenty-five per cent to seventy-five per cent capacity.

Cleveland boasts 218 classes of industry, but the backbone of her economic life is the iron smelter and the steel mill. Forty-two out of her hundred most important plants come into this group, and employ more workmen than any other class.

For a while this spring, when steel was regarded by financial and economic writers as the most hopeful spot in American industry, Cleveland looked for comparative prosperity and the early resumption of normal business.

But recent developments have dealt

EDISON HONORED AT PHILADELPHIA

a severe blow to this burst of optimism. On the morning I reached this city, it was announced in Iron Trade Review that steel production in the past month at Cleveland had fallen precipitately from seventy-six per cent to fifty per cent of normal. The remainder of America's Ruhr had suffered likewise, operations at Pittsburgh dropping from seventy-five per cent normal to seventy per cent, Youngstown from seventy to sixty per cent, while the smokestacks of some Mahoning Valley sheet mills were already rusty from disuse.

PROSPECTS NOT ROSY

Little prospect of improvement could be gathered. "July and August promise to be the lowest months of the year," comments Iron Trade Review. "In the past few days there has been a noticeable depression of sentiment in quarters where, a week or two ago, some hopes for improvement were voiced." Cleveland has more exact information about her current unemployment than any other city visited, says Wilfrid Eggleston, investigator of The Toronto Star. The Federal-state-city Employment Bureau is known throughout the United States for its efficiency. I had heard it spoken of with admiration and envy so often that I approached it to-day with considerable curiosity and a policeman's pace.

The men's department consists of a hall perhaps thirty-five by sixty feet, partitioned by low railings into three or four departments. Clerical help, unskilled labor, and junior placements. At nine-thirty, when I looked in, the hall was comfortably filled, and a policeman's pace up and down quietly by the door.

The junior placements secretary was suddenly explaining to a youth with ruffled hair and wearing a sport sweater that he would have to be patient. "There's so many young fellows coming to a school these days looking for work, you see," the secretary said.

B. C. Seiple, the superintendent of employment, was across the hall, in a glass-partitioned office off from the women's department, also comfortably filled with anxious wage-earners. A wave of relief spread across Mr. Seiple's face, when I explained to him that I was not another applicant looking for work.

FACING TREMENDOUS PROBLEM

Mr. Seiple firmly believes that the United States is faced to-day with the spectre of chronic unemployment on a large scale. "As a result of constructive suggestions he made public, he was asked by the government to draw up a tentative plan. His finished proposal recommends the setting up of a permanent national employment board, with extensive duties and powers. Only the introduction of the Wagner Bill, Mr. Seiple said, has prevented the plan being called to the attention of Congress this session."

"Our unemployment is a tremendous problem, and we have got to meet it in a big way," Mr. Seiple maintains. "Trifling with it won't get us anywhere."

Turning to the local situation, I asked Mr. Seiple if he still had a "full house" every morning, or whether the number I had seen to-day was out of the ordinary. "About the usual number," he replied. "During the winter months we ran up to 1,200 a day."

Sixty-thousand people were out of work in Cleveland proper last January, Mr. Seiple said. When the census was taken in April it revealed 42,000 in the city and another 18,000 in the suburbs who were jobless.

"About five thousand people have found employment since mid-April," Mr. Seiple said. "This week about five thousand college and high school students will leave their classrooms permanently and come down here looking for a start in life." Mr. Seiple indicated that late June figures would thus be approximately the same as mid-April's.

OPENINGS DON'T EXIST

"You have a junior placement department," I observed. "I observed," he replied, "but we're not doing much. The openings don't exist."

From his efficient and comprehensive files, Mr. Seiple gave me, among other interesting Cleveland employment facts the following:

In January, February and March the index showing extent of unemployment in the city stood at its highest, for those months since the record was begun in 1915.

In April and May, unemployment was greater than ever before in those months, except in 1921, when it was in each case fractionally higher.

May unemployment was greater than April's, although an improvement had been confidently predicted.

For every 124 persons employed in industry in May, 1929, there were only 104 employed in the month just past.

An editorial in a Cleveland morning paper, commenting on unemployment here, observed that if there were as many jobless people in the United States proportionately as there were in Cleveland, there would be 4,700,000 all told, and that "our situation would be quite as bad as that existing in Great Britain."

"You have fifty-five or sixty thousand unemployed in greater Cleveland to-day," I said to Mr. Seiple, "but what about part-time workers? Any of your factories reduced hours?"

"I haven't the figures on hand," replied Mr. Seiple, "but there are a great many plants running part time, one running full time."

CHARITIES QUOTA EXCEEDED

Cleveland's Department of Public Welfare does not look after the unemployed. That is left to the Associated Charities and other agencies.

"DIVORCEE" SHOWING AT DOMINION

Norma Shearer Has Leading Role in M.-G.-M. Film
Supporting Cast All Recruited
From Ranks of Stage

Perhaps the only 100 per cent stage supporting cast assembled for a motion picture appears with Norma Shearer in "The Divorcee," her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talking picture, which will be shown to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday, at the Dominion Theatre.

In this adaptation of a story by Ursula Parrott, which Robert Z. Leonard directed for the screen, Chester Morris, one of the most popular figures on the Broadway stage before coming into pictures, plays opposite the star. Morris, who crashed into film fame in "Alibi," was last seen on the stage in "Whispering Friends" and "Fast Life."

Robert Montgomery, who plays the role of the lover, was brought from the stage, where he was a favorite favorite, to make his movie debut in "So This Is College," and recently played opposite Miss Shearer in "Their Own Desire." Conrad Nagel, while identified with the screen for some time, has an extensive stage background, this experience equipping him for his brilliant talkie career.

Zelda Sears, who plays the part of the housekeeper, is one of the stage's best-known playwrights and actresses, having written such plays as "The Changing Vine" and "Undertow." Tyler Brooke is noted as a stage comedian and Florence Eldridge, Mary Doreen, Helene Millard, George Irving, Helen Johnson and Robert Elliott all are well-known to theatre audiences.

MERMOZ PLANE MAY BE SAVED

Dakar, Senegal, July 14.—Jean Mermoz, French air mail flier, and his two companions who were forced to descend on the sea July 9 while en route from Brazil to Africa, arrived here yesterday aboard the dispatch boat, Phoenix, which rescued them.

The fliers were in perfect health and said they would leave for France by airplane as soon as possible. They said they had been unable to determine the exact cause of the oil leak which forced their descent 600 miles from here. The Aeropostale Company has announced plans to try to recover the abandoned plane in hope of learning the cause of the leak.

TWO FLIERS KILLED

Minneapolis, N.Y., July 14.—Two licensed air pilots of this city were burned to death when their plane crashed at Newton Battlefield State Park yesterday. They were identified by their watches as Theodore Robert, thirty-two, and Walter Arnold, thirty-four.

Donations financed by the Cleveland Community Chest.

Kenneth Sturges, executive of the latter fund, estimated for me that before the year was out $1,500,000 would be spent on family care arising out of unemployment. Associated Charities, which bore the brunt of the burden, had found it necessary to exceed its quota (which was $667,000), by $200,000, in order to care for pressing cases this winter and spring.

Building activity is at a higher level than in Chicago, and the number of the building trades here is not more than 10,000. The Chamber of Commerce is looking at the present situation as optimistically as possible, and Earle Martin, industrial commissioner, believes the corner has been turned. But business barometers are not especially encouraging. Construction permits for May were the lowest since 1923. Car loadings, generally regarded as the most illuminating of records, also touched low point since 1923. April, 1930, total of 30,783 cars showed a drop from 43,932 last April.

Ends Piles Quick Without Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, removes the congestion and strengthens the affected parts. HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere and has such a wonderful record of success even in chronic and stubborn cases that McParlane and Vancouver Drug Stores invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money-back if it does not end all Pile misery. WEST VANCOUVER CITIZEN STRUCK BY AUTO DIES

West Vancouver, B.C., July 14.—Robert Bell, twenty-six, 1175 Duchess Street, died in the North Vancouver General Hospital early yesterday morning from injuries received at midnight Saturday, when struck by a motor car.

His companion, Miss Rena Rivers, nineteen, Twentyfifth Street and Marine Drive, is in the hospital suffering from severe injuries received at the same time.

Francis Gregg, forty-five, 523 Sixth Street East, was arrested early yesterday by North Vancouver city police, on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the case, police said, and was released on bail of $5,000.

According to the police report, Mr. Bell and Miss Rivers were walking east on Marine Drive. They were on the side of the road.

Suddenly, the report says, an automobile came from behind and struck them. Police allege the driver of the car speeded away from the scene of the accident immediately.

Gregg was arrested by North Vancouver city police officers from information received from the West Vancouver police, they said.

Bell was born in Wishaw, Lanarkshire, Scotland, and received all his education in that country. He came here four years ago and was employed as a truck driver for Gainer's Limited, meat packers, Vancouver.

China has passed a factory law restricting employment of women and children and establishing an eight-hour day for adults.

Proper Boy Dreamed of Living With

Indians

Owen Wietor was such a very proper little boy, and so well taken care of, his family was well-to-do, and they wanted him to grow up to be a perfect little gentleman. Sometimes he dreamed, as all boys did, of going west to see Indians, but he didn't dare talk about such ideas.

When he was ten, his mother announced that they were going to take him on a trip. They were going to Europe, where he could study music.

He was fond of music, and they thought that studying abroad might help him to become a real musician.

So for three years he studied in Europe, and was homesick for his native country, while he was always believing that a lucky little boy he was to have such a fine life.

When he grew up, he fulfilled his boyhood dream and went west to hunt in the wider parts of the country. He became famous for his western stories.

His best-known work is a novel called

"The Virginian." He was born July 14,

1860, in Philadelphia.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)
Winnipeg, July 14.—Wheat: The market again active, showing an advance of one cent over the close Saturday during the first half of today's session and then breaking to one cent lower than the previous close.

Liverpool firmer than close, closing 1/4 to 1/2 higher, a fair business was worked over the week-end, there had been no rains in spring wheat territory with moderate high temperatures the last two days, and still higher prospects for to-day and Tuesday. These features were considered bullish, but statistics were very bearish.

The world shipments last week totaled only 10,578,000 bushels of 2,500,000 smaller than last week and still the passage supplies increased about 2,500,000 bushels, indicating a very poor distribution abroad. Of the shipments last week North America cleared 8,740,000 bushels.

New York estimated sales at around 1,000,000 bushels and 600,000 could be confirmed as worked out of this market, half of which was done by the pool. This market active nervous on the declines, the shorts running to cover quickly, causing a recovery.

There was a somewhat better demand for cash wheat to-day, both shippers and exporters being in the market for certain wheat and spreads were unchanged to one-half cent higher. Offerings were not heavy. Practically no change in the flour situation but a little Oriental enquiry was received.

Unfavorable reports continue to arrive from the west with the crop in some areas looking ground with moisture badly needed, as the rains last week were not general.

The hungry crop was reported as sharply reduced officially from previous estimates. U.S. visible increased 8,846,000 bushels, but Chicago was firmer than Winnipeg most of the day, which helped the market. Rally of one cent was recorded at the close, which was 1/2 to 3/4 unchanged. This market will be closed on Tuesday, July 15, Manitoba Diamond Jubilee holiday.

Cash Grain:—The market was firmer throughout the day. Offerings were light and shorts were inclined to cover, due to the high temperatures forecast for today, there was not much doing in the cash market, with a moderate demand for the low grades from Eastern Canada. Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher, barley 1/4 to 1/2 higher, and rye 1/4 to 1/2 higher.

Flax:—This market was also firm, closing 1/4 to 1/2 higher.

Soon Uncle Wiggly had finished as from his ship sky as he thought he needed and he called:

"All aboard. Twisty!"

The pig got to the clothes basket cockpit. There was a hardy room for Uncle Wiggly but the rabbit managed to squeeze himself in front of his friend, Mr. Long-ear. The pig, the baby carriage holding wheel and the pig.

"Hold tight now," Up we go!"

"I'm ready!" grunted the pig. He waited. Uncle Wiggly waited. But, for some reason they didn't go up. Then, all of a sudden Mr. Twistytail's basket fell that he fell out of the basket.

"What's this matter?" asked Uncle Wiggly. But to find out you must read the story to-morrow night. Then, the umbrellas will stop running out of the rain and getting its handle wet. Watch all you about Uncle Wiggly coming up.

About replying, Mr. Bain instigated the gun in his left hand, struggled and the thug shot him in the hand. After a scuffle, Bain was thrown to the ground. When at a distance of about four wheeled about, took aim and shot.

Bain claims the shot was meant for a body, and it was only by the maneuvering that he got the shot in his leg, which was a thigh, almost a foot the knee, traveling downward, and the victim points out, in fact, the character and angry at the character.

The Zero
Hour
in Marriage

Dorothy Dix

Finds
Dorothy's Pattern
at Breakfast

If You Could Trace Estrangement of Most Couples Whose Marriages Go on the Rocks You Would Find That It Began Over the Morning Coffee, in the Fatal Hour Between 7.45 and 8.45 o'clock

THE MOST dangerous hour in domestic life is that between 7.45 and 8.45 a.m. As the fortune tellers say, it is a time of peculiar peril to husbands and wives in which they should move cautiously and do and say nothing rash.

For that is the zero hour in which most married couples go over the top and in which they have the fights that break hearts and wreck homes and that are eventually arbitrated by the divorce courts.

Why an otherwise sane and reasonable man and woman should choose the beginning of the day to put their worst feet foremost and show themselves to each other in their most disillusioning light, nobody can explain. Neither does any one know why the breakfast table should be the predestined and foreordained family battleground, nor why husbands and wives say things to each other at breakfast that they would not dream of saying at dinner. These things merely are, matrimony being what it is.

Perhaps in some way we slip back into our original savagery in our sleep and it takes us half the day to recover the veneer of civilization that makes us considerate of our fellow-creatures. Perhaps it is because we are like ravening wolves seeking whom we may devour until we are fed, but, anyway, most of us are at our worst in the early morning.

Women who would not dream of coming to dinner without being dolled up and looking their best come to breakfast with cold cream on their faces and in slouchy wrappers. Men who are suave and agreeable at dinner are surly and grouchy and knock the coffee and lambaste the toast and eggs at breakfast.

Breakfast is the time that wife takes to ask for money and tell bad news, and when husband raises ructions over the bills and scolds the children for their table manners and their marks in school and expresses his opinion of a man who is fool enough to marry.

In innumerable homes the breakfast table scrap that ends in the husband banging out of the door with thunder on his brow and the wife wiping her eyes on a doily is just as much a part of the daily regimen as the bacon and eggs. Indeed, so accustomed to it does the average family become that they take it as a matter of course, and lose sight of the danger of a husband and wife parting for the day with anger in their hearts and filled with a sense of bitterness and injustice against each other.

Yet that is the dire result of the breakfast-table quarrel, and if you could trace the estrangement of most of the couples whose marriages go on the rocks you would find that it began over the morning coffee. It is in this fatal hour between 7.45 and 8.45 a.m. that more love and romance are slain than during all the other twenty-three.

Consider the peculiar dangers of a married couple getting off to a bad start in the morning. Say the wife is sleepy and peevish about having to get up and get breakfast for her husband. She doesn't bother to make herself attractive looking nor even to comb her hair and powder her nose. She slaps on a soiled kimono and she scrambles together a little ill-cooked food. At the table she resents her husband's criticisms and tells him a few home truths and he hands her some snappy comebacks and they part upon a note of discord.

She forgets that a mean breakfast of indigestible food is just so much poison that will slow him down mentally and physically and render him incapable of doing his best work. The pessimism induced by a breakfast of burnt toast or leathery cakes and burnt bacon and overdone eggs has made many a man turn down the business opportunity that would have led him to fortune or quarrel with his partner or insult his best client or customer.

And the slovenly wife forgets that her husband goes from her to work with an office full of young girls all spick-and-span and with every hair in its place and whose business it is to flatter and cajole him, and it is in these early morning hours that the vamps, whose specialty is consoling disgruntled married men, get in their work. Any private secretary will tell you that the morning is the psychological moment in which married men confide their woes and tell how they are not understood by their wives.

And the man who is as amiable as a sorehead bear at breakfast and who vents upon his wife his ill humor at having to go to work instead of playing golf, forgets that he leaves her to mull over all day his unkind speeches, that grow more and more cruel and unjust the more she thinks about them until, finally, they blot out all of her affection for him.

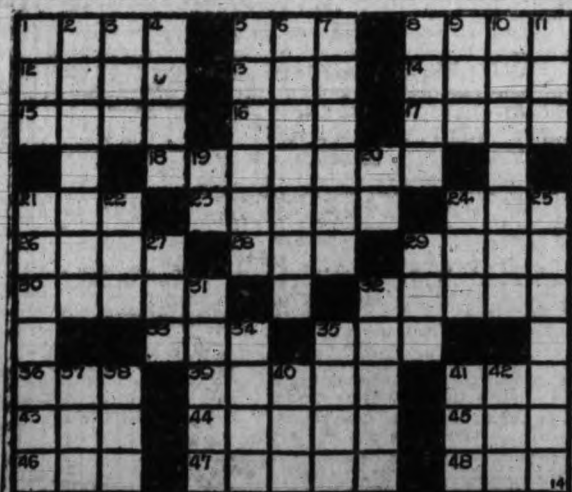

It is when a woman remembers her husband at breakfast that she begins to ask herself what's the use of trying to please a man who will find fault, no matter what she does. It is the memory of the breakfast-table spat that often more than anything else sets wives out to hunt for affinities.

It is the note of love and tenderness and good cheer or of bitterness and strife, struck at the breakfast table that rings in a husband's and wife's ears all day. It is the picture of the breakfast table that is before their eyes, and that is why the hour between 7.45 and 8.45 a.m. is the most important one in the whole twenty-four and why they should watch their steps then more carefully than at any other time.

C.N.R. PARTY IN VANCOUVER

New Canadian National Hotel There Will Be Opened in 1932, President Declares

Sir Henry Thornton and Party Will Be Here on Wednesday Before Alaska Trip

Vancouver, July 14.—The Canadian National Hotel, now under construction at Georgia and Burrard Streets will be opened in the spring of 1932, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, announced here Sunday night.

This is the first official pronouncement of the opening date of the massive structure which is being erected here to meet the need of additional high class travel accommodation. Sir Henry drew attention to the naturally slow progress of a hotel building of this magnitude which requires a steel frame of exceptionally heavy construction and is to be faced with native stone costing hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In Sir Henry's party is Lady Thornton, R. L. Brown, vice-president in charge of traffic; Dr. John McCombs, chief medical officer; C.N.R. W. S. Thompson, director of publicity; W. A. Tisdale, general manager, western region; H. A. Nixon, chief engineer, western region; B. T. Chappell, general superintendent, B.C. district; S. Morrison, district engineer and J. McKinnon, superintendent, Kamloops.

At Vancouver the party was joined by Col. T. A. Hiam, assistant to the president, and Tuesday night it is planned to visit Victoria returning Thursday night. On his arrival here Thursday, Sir Henry and his party will sail aboard S. Prince Henry for Alaska, this being the president's first trip to Wrangell and Ketchikan.
